Heavy Casualties Suffered by Rebels In Congo Hassle

ELIZABETHVILLE, THE CONGO, (AP)—Swedish U. N. troops fought off hundreds of rebel Baluba tribesmen who made three attacks on a train the Swedes were escorting in central Katanga Province.

A U. N. spokesman said the Swedes inflicted "heavy casualties" on the Balubas but that no Swedes were hurt.

The Swedish troops were escorting a train traveling south from the coal mining town of Luena, about 300 miles northwest of Elisabethville. Balubas had attacked the same train over the weekend, wounding three Swedes.

"The Swedes repulsed the rebels," he continued, "but the train then reached part of the rail track which the tribesmen had torn up. As the train backed up to return to Luena, about 400 more Balubas appeared and made another attack."

"The Swedes opened fire and the Balubas retreated. There were about 60 Swedish troops on board the train."

"The train was about 500 yards from Luena station when the Balubas launched a third attack which the Swedes drove off, inflicting many casualties. The troops are presently dug in around Luena station and a helicopter is due to leave from Kamina base about 100 miles from Luena with fresh ammunition and other supplies."

Twenty-nine Americans — missionaries and their families — have arrived safely in Ruanda-Urundi after being detained by pro-Lumumba forces in Kivu Province, a U. N. spokesman in Leopoldville said. Details of their release were not given, but earlier reports indicated their detention was a mistake on the part of over-eager troops at the border.

Break-in Reported At Green Ridge

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax Tuesday morning reported a break-in at Green Ridge sometime Monday night. Taken was between $25 and $30 from vending machines.

Fairfax also reported he had received a call of a similar break-in at the Calhoun school the same night.

Both of these burglaries were similar to break-ins recently reported by other schools in the Central Missouri area.

In other activities of the Sheriff's department Fairfax said that St. Joseph authorities have apprehended two men suspected of being implicated in the theft of a chain saw from the Krynitz farm near LaMonte Jan. 13.

The men are to be returned to Sedalia for questioning.

Rebel Base Stronghold Is Captured

Little Resistance Given to Troops In Laos Conflict

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Pro-Western government troops pushed their way into Vang Vieng Monday and captured the strategic rebel base on the road to the royal capital of Luang Prabang after only slight resistance.

A dispatch from Associated Press cameraman Fred Waters said the town fell at 11:25 a. m. Monday after only a 30-minute battle.

Another government column was inching south from Luang Prabang, with plans for a linkup and then a turn east toward the rebel-held Plaine des Jarres. But the government's prospects were seriously dimmed by reverses on the southern front, where pro-Communist forces on Friday captured Ta Vieng, one of the government's staging bases for the planned offensive against the Plaine des Jarres.

The situation around Tha Thom, another government staging base, was confused. French sources said Tha Thom fell Sunday to rebels advancing from Ta Vieng. Other sources said it was still in government hands.

Waters reported rebel Capt. Kong Le had left 500 defenders in Vang Vieng and that they fell steadily back before a determined government push launched at dawn Monday. The government force was supported by rocket and machinegun fire from the Laotian army's four U. S.-supplied trainer-fighter planes.

Silence Curtain In Cuba

Three More Executions Carried Out

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime maintained a curtain of silence today around military operations against rebels in central Cuba's mountains. But it announced execution of three more "terrorists" in Havana and openly purged opposition in labor unions.

The executions, which raised the unofficial total to 580 since Castro took power, were the first since the prime minister announced those responsible for recent bombings and sabotage would be dealt with most severely.

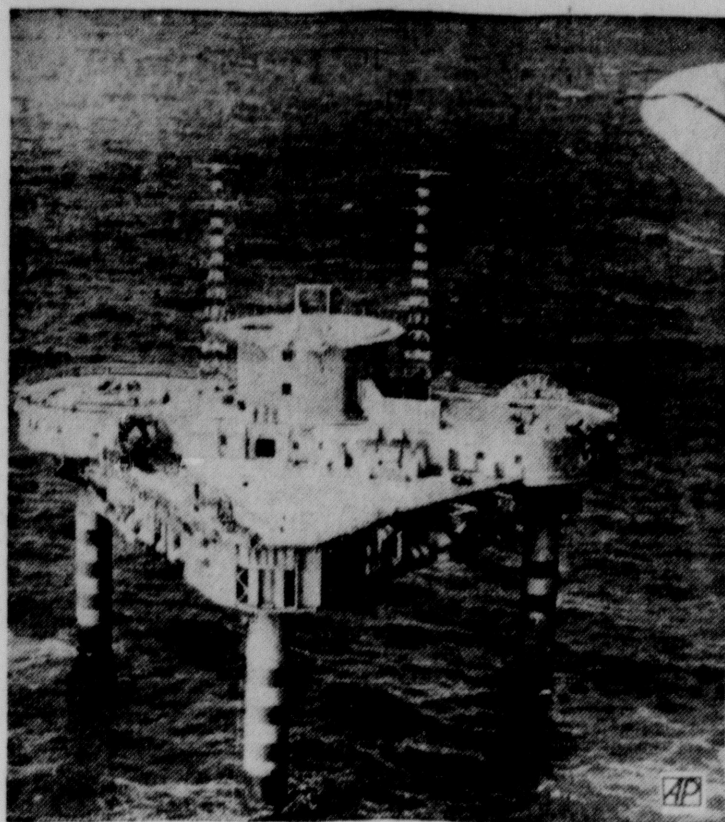

Shot early today in Havana's La Cabana fortress were Juan Mesa Lopez and Julio Llevra Suarez, accused of "counter revolutionary and terrorist activities," and Balbino Emilio Diaz, charged with attempting to kill pro-Castro radio commentator Jose Pardo Llava last fall. Llevra Suarez also was accused of spying for the U. S. government.

On the heels of a warning to the Bus Drivers Union to close ranks behind Castro's revolution, the Labor Ministry dismissed 360 employees of the recently nationalized Cuban Electric Co. No official reason was given but the workers said they were fired for being unpatriotic and potentially dangerous to loyal workers.

Bus Flips When Hit By Car

Children Escape Serious Injuries

Nine Warrensburg school children and their school bus driver miraculously escaped serious injury when their school bus was struck and overturned by an automobile on U. S. Highway 50 near Warrensburg at 11:30 a. m. Monday.

The three occupants of the car, all from Kansas City, Kan., were seriously injured and two were listed in critical condition at the Warrensburg Medical Center.

The school bus driven by Terry Lee Goring, 20, Warrensburg, was proceeding east on the highway and preparing to make a left turn into a side road about one and one half mile east of the Highway 50-Highway 13 interchange when it was struck in the left rear corner by a 1957 Pontiac driven east by Allen Johnson, 42, Negro.

Johnson received fractured ribs, cuts and bruises and a compound fracture of the left leg. He was listed in serious condition.

One passenger in the car, Maude Jordan, 60, Negro, received multiple head injuries and fractures of both wrists. She is listed in critical condition.

The third occupant of the Pontiac, Walter Carl, 43, Negro, received chest injuries and a fractured nose. He is also listed in critical condition.

Goring, the driver of the bus, received only bruises although he was thrown from the bus when it flipped.

Minor injuries to the school children include:

Carol Dempsey, 14, cut eyebrow.

Patricia Clark, 12, minor bruises.

Stanley Richey, 12 cut on head. Jimmy Hunt, 13, abrasions on right arm and left ankle.

Robert Everly, 13, bump on head.

James Franklin, 13, cut on head. Others who were reported shaken up, but not injured were: Michael Revels, 13; Mike Caldwell, 13; and Dorothy Dempsey, 13. The children are all from the rural Warrensburg area.

The youngsters and Goring received first aid treatment either at the Warrensburg Medical Center or from the Warrensburg school nurse.

The accident is still under investigation and it is not known if any charges will be brought against the drivers.

According to Johnson County Deputy Sheriff Frank Collins and State Highway Patrol Sgt. Fred Barnes who investigated the accident, the car left skid marks for 227 feet before it struck the bus. Collins pointed out that, although Johnson claimed that he was only traveling "40 m.p.h. the last time I looked at the speedometer," the Driver's Guide says that a car can come to normal stop from 70 m.p.h. in slightly more than 250 feet.

The bus, after being struck, turned completely over sideways and wound up in the ditch on its wheels. It was damaged in the left rear and on the top, but the few injuries among the school children were attributed to the fact that none of the window glass shattered.

The Pontiac was demolished. It was pointed out by investigating officers that the skid marks were in a straight line down the left hand lane of the highway and since the bus was in that lane preparatory to making the turn, the accident might have been avoided had Johnson pulled his car into the right hand lane.

Approve Resolutions For Paving Streets

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

The City Council Monday night passed seven resolutions for resurfacing streets with one and a half inch thickness surface course of hot mixed asphaltic concrete. Three proposed resolutions were not read due to remonstrance by property owners.

The proposals for resurfacing are being offered to the citizens on streets where paving has deteriorated. It is not a forced issue and the Street and Alley Department in its planning not only presents the resolutions but also the costs to the property owners.

Resolutions which were read and passed by the Council call for advertising of such paving for seven days with 10 days grace for the property owners to discuss the problem with their councilman.

Approved by the Council are resolutions to pave the following:

Ohio street from Broadway to Sixteenth Street, with improvement being made at 12th and Ohio by widening the streets and eliminating the dangerous jog; cost to the property owners on the 40-foot width is $3.90 per front foot for eight blocks.

Park Avenue from Second Street to Broadway, 24-foot width at $2.22, seven blocks. Tenth Street from Stewart Avenue to Prospect, 24 feet width, $2.17, two blocks.

Massachusetts Avenue from 10th Street to 13th Street, 30 feet width at $2.70, three blocks.

Fourth Street from Osage to Kentucky, 40 feet width, $2.94, one block.

Fifth Street from Osage to Kentucky, 30 feet width at $2.42, one block.

Seventh Street from Osage to Grand Avenue, 30 feet width at $2.43, six blocks.

During the passage of the resolutions, Councilman Woodrow Garrison brought out the widening of Park from Second to Third had been left out. Councilman E. Glenn Lewis stated he felt this should be left up to the Park Board as this Board would have to stand the cost of the improvement out of its budget, and it was actually the responsibility of all the taxpayers rather than the few who reside on the east side of the street. This was tabled.

Councilman Earl Paxton asked, if certain property owners protested, would just the blocks under remonstrance be left out of paving program. Councilman Lewis explained it was possible, and probable they would kill the whole project which might be wanted by other property owners. It was brought out the resurfacing was improvement to

Colie Ervin Resigns State Fair Position

Colie Ervin, Secretary of the Missouri State Fair has tendered his resignation to become effective at the appointment of his successor. He was appointed to the position by Gov. James T. Blair Jr. in 1957. His immediate plans call for a trip to Florida in February and a visit at the Florida State fair in Tampa.

In a statement Colie said he would remain available to give the new secretary any aid he could to make the change over as smooth as possible.

Ervin said the prospects for a great State Fair in 1961 were never brighter and he was sure Gov. John M. Dalton and the Commissioner of Agriculture would give considerable thought to placing a good man as fair administrator.

"Naturally being born on these fairgrounds and being in the fair business so long, I will always have a special interest in fairs and especially our own Missouri State Fair. I believe we have one of the best State Fair Grounds in the country," Ervin said.

Colie indicated a year ago the 1960 fair would end his tenure and he would not be an applicant for the position as fair manager due to his preference for other business.

Colie stated he wanted to thank the many people who helped him stage the last four fairs and especially the many thousands who attended.

Republicans have only six of the 34 Senate seats.

Urges $145,000 Increase

Dalton Recommends Boost In Funds for State Fair

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 17 (P)—Governor John M. Dalton today recommended an appropriation of $1,070,635 for general operations of the state fair in Sedalia the next two years. It would be an increase of almost $145,000 over the appropriation for the biennium that ends June 30.

Of the recommendation, $797,635 would come from the fair's fees fund and $273,000 from state general revenue. It would allow a little over $5,600 for salary increases.

Dalton sharply reduced fair's requested $1,895,250 in building funds, however. He recommended $606,350, including funds for:

Water system improvements to increase fire safety, $61,850; repairs and replacements to electrical system, $10,500; new agricultural building, $230,000; repairs to administration building, $50,000; renovation of women's building, $50,000; new maintenance building, $30,000; ticket booths, $6,000; repair and repaint wooden buildings, $50,000; two new restrooms, $50,000; new roof on Holstein barn, $3,500; pave walkways adjacent to livestock barns, $12,000; construct and/or repair streets and sidewalks, $25,000; new horse show stalls, $5,000; and provide paved walkways in the carnival grounds, $22,500.

Rejected were such items as fencing and resurfacing various lots, a new shelter house, a new dairy cattle barn, additional space for beef cattle, youth building facilities, portable stage and scenery, a hall of fame memorial building and a decorative lighted water fountain.

Fear 28 Men Have Died Beneath Sea

Sea Search Ends As Coast Guard Examines Debris

NEW YORK (AP)—Salvage workers reported today that there was "no further sign of life" from the sunken wreckage of a radar tower which collapsed in the sea Sunday night.

Salvage rescue operations were resumed at 6:30 a. m. At 8:20 a. m. the Coast Guard here was notified there was nothing more to indicate anyone might be alive in the underwater debris.

Tappings resembling the work of humans had been heard from below the surface Monday, giving rise to hope that some of the 28 men aboard the tower might have survived in an airtight compartment.

A sea search of the area was abandoned and rescuers concentrated on salvage and diving operations at the tower site, 70 miles southeast of New York City.

The so-called Texas Tower was wrecked by high winds and stormy seas. One body has since been recovered and another sighted but lost.

Rescue operations had been dramatically spurred Monday when enigmatic tappings and a sound which was likened to a human voice were heard coming from the tower.

Then the tappings faded, stopped — and were not heard again.

"A realistic view," said the Coast Guard, "must be that the men in the tower are no longer alive."

During the chill black night, a flotilla of salvage and search vessels hovered near the spot where the tower stood guard as part of the Air Force's early warning system.

While searchlights and flares played eerily over the scene, teams of divers plunged into the 48-degree seas in attempts to reach the main quarters of the tower's ship-like hull.

Police Chief Puts 'Cage' Off Limits

Action Follows Loss of Traffic Department Funds

Some funds reported missing in the traffic clerk's department at the police station Monday has caused Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin to declare the cage area at police headquarters "off limits to everyone except desk sergeant and the traffic man on duty."

Hamlin declined to say how much money was missing, or if it had been recovered, but he did say this was the main reason he had declared the area restricted. This order includes police officers not assigned to work behind the cage walls, newsmen, or any other person.

Heretofore newsmen had been authorized to enter the enclosure in order to obtain information on the police blotter, court records and accident reports. These documents must now be handed through a small slit in the cage by the desk sergeant on duty, on request of newsmen, insurance representatives and other interested citizens.

This inconvenience was the situation that led to certain people being allowed behind the cage walls in the first place. Hamlin said there is some remodeling being planned to make the needed information more readily available, and that this remodeling should be completed in a few days.

Hamlin said he had the full backing of the police board in his actions. He said that at a meeting of the board Monday night members agreed to close the area and authorized the remodeling. The police board is made up of Earl Paxton, Jack Cunningham and E. B. Smith.

Hamlin said he did not implicate any particular person in connection with the missing funds when he made his report to the police board, but that there were a lot of people in the cage area Monday, and the funds are missing.

Modest Tax Increase Called For

State Legislature Receives Budget for $1,255 Million

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton gave the Missouri Legislature a record budget of $1,255 million today for the next two years.

He said it could be financed with only modest tax increases on non-essentials.

The total, covering tax, fees and federal funds, compares with around $1,151,000,000 for the current two years.

Dalton based his budget on the assumption the legislature would approve his request for a withholding system to collect the state income tax, along with an increase in the cigarette tax from 2 to 4 cents and 50 per cent increase in beer, liquor and wine taxes.

He also is counting on $32 million during the next two years from the 1959 use tax.

Other "new" revenue to help pay the big bill would include $2 million from sales tax on non-highway motor fuel; $5.1 million turned back from present appropriations and $5 million from the $20 million operating reserve.

Dalton called it a package deal and conceded it would be tough and go to meet the cost even if the legislature goes along with all his recommendations. Two years ago the lawmakers rejected bills for a withholding tax, a cigarette tax increase and beer and liquor tax increases.

"I call your attention to the fact that proposed income and expenditures are very closely balanced," he said in his budget message.

"Should one or more of the tax proposals not secure legislative approval, this entire fiscal plan is placed in jeopardy and other ma-

Mark 100th Year of Railroading

The day was perfect and the station platform was crowded with people to see the Missouri Pacific Eagle roll into the station just about on time Tuesday at 12:15 p. m., on the 100th anniversary of when the first train pulled into Sedalia a century ago.

Although all of the people of the town had gathered to see that woodburner on its first trip there were many more there Tuesday, an estimated 2,000.

The Smith-Cotton High School Band, directed by Mrs. Carl Schrader, was at Kentucky and the tracks in their black and gold uniforms with music filling the air. The train came in with its terrific roar, slowed and finally stopped west of Kentucky and the crowd ran toward the engine.

The crew was Engineer Al O. Price, Conductor J. J. Guent, Fireman G. A. Brown, brakeman W. A. Woodson and porter O. R. Blackwell.

As Engineer Price climbed off of engine 7021A7020A, Mayor Abe Silverman presented him with a white cake decorated in red on top of which was a miniature engine. As William C. Hopkins held the cake the mayor cut the first piece with a one hundred-year-old sword and gave the first piece to Engineer Price.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Neusberger

"Engineer Price," said the Mayor, "On behalf of the City of Sedalia we welcome you. No doubt you have been through Sedalia many times on No. 5. There are more people here today than on the first stop 100 years ago. We sincerely hope that the Missouri Pacific will progress as much in the next 100 years as it has in the last 100 years."

Among the people at the train was the man directly responsible for the big celebration, Leslie Hale, curator of the county museum. It was Leslie who made the plans and who, with his wife, and a group of Sedalians, went to Jefferson City Tuesday morning to come back on the train.

Getting off the train, too, was Mrs. N. B. Patton, 903 South Ken-er of Mrs. Louise Metcalf, 902 South Kentucky, was just 10 years old. She was born in McGirk and had gone to Syracuse to live with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Neuberger. The Neuberger family were coming to Sedalia to make their home and the family came in on that first train. The Neuberger family was prominent people in the community and Mr. Neuberger was provost marshal. He built the brick house next door to the home where Mrs. Metcalf now lives, and entertained both Southern and Northern officers there during the Civil War. A cannon was taken out from over the door when the house was remodeled a few years ago.

Mrs. Werner was well known, too. She and Mr. Werner were the parents of three children, the daughter, Louise, and two sons, Gus, father of Mrs. Patton, was Marjorie Werner and Mrs. Ethel Madorin, 804 West Fourth, and the other son, Carl Werner.

At the station Tuesday, also, was Kenneth Botts, whose grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Botts, rode the first train. The engine, according to the story told to their children and grandchildren by Mr. Botts, was small and so were the coaches.

Mrs. Charles Patterson was there in the crowd, too. Her father, N. H. Gentry, was 11 years old and was at the depot when the first train came in. She said that he heard people say: "People were taking their lives in their hands when they rode on that fast train."

John Blue, the oldest Missouri Pacific employee in Sedalia, who went to work here in 1899, was there.

Many Missouri Pacific officials were there, old timers and newcomers to Sedalia, representatives from various organizations of the city, the county court and the Chamber of Commerce.

No crowd is complete without a dog, and a dog was there, too, a black dog that looked very bewildered at the crowd.

There were a number of the Sisters of the Swiss there, too. And the youngest was Valerie Roberts Howerton, two and a half years old, all dressed up in her century ago style blue dress. There was another tot with a long dress and a bustle.

A group of Missouri Pacific women in costume went down on the morning train, on which were former President and Mrs. Harry Truman on their way to the inaugural in Washington. The women were Mrs. Frank Rouchka, president; Mrs. Paul Weimholt, Mrs. T. A. Maxwell, Mrs. John White and Mrs. Albert Dirck.

As the train pulled out with George Brown as engineer, the train crew and other employees waved and many of the passengers joined in the fun, waving from the windows and vestibules.

State

for tax changes will be required if the state is to move forward." That appeared to leave the door open for increasing the 2 percent sales tax. A one-cent increase would produce about $60 million a year.

Dalton told newsmen "I don't want to raise the sales tax because that puts it on the people that are hurt the most." To arrive at the $1,255,000,000 total, the governor recommended $27,470,000 from the general revenue (tax) fund, and $727,843,000 from federal and other state funds.

Comparable figures two years ago were $405,000,000 and $724,695. Included in Dalton's total is $26 million for capital improvements. The governor said he cut departmental requests by more than $165 million.

He explained costs are higher because of full financing of the $57 million state aid school foundation program; $11 million to meet higher enrollments; $5 million to educate mentally retarded and handicapped children and provide state aid for school buildings.

Dalton repeated his plea for review of foundation program.

Another factor in increased costs, he said, is the booming enrollment in colleges and universities. To provide faculty additions and bring salaries more nearly in line with the national average will cost $13 million more.

A start on the 10-year mental health program was estimated to require increased appropriations of about $6.5 million.

Another $4 million increase was figured for the welfare program. Capital improvement recommendations would add expenditures of about $14.5 million.

Thus, Dalton said, the five programs of public schools, higher education, mental health, welfare and capital improvements, would account for about $111 million of the $121 million increase proposed.

The governor did not discuss highway needs. He said that would come later.

Where does the governor figure the money will come from to finance his recommendations?

A normal increase of about 3 percent in the yield of present taxes is expected to bring in around $18 million more in the next two years.

That would still be about $112 million short of the budget. Here's the way Dalton figures to make up the difference:

A withholding system of collecting state income tax to provide an estimated $12 million more during the 1961-63 period. A $26 million windfall also would come from taxes collected during the first half of 1961 under the present law. Total to meet the budget needs $38 million.

Increasing the present 2-cent cigarette tax to 4 cents a package — an estimated $22.5 million more in the two year period.

A 50 percent increase in beer, liquor and wine taxes — $7.5 million.

Requiring sales tax be paid on farm and other non-highway motor fuel which now goes tax-free — $5.1 million.

Re-enactment and improvement of the 1959 use tax law if the Supreme Court decides it is unconstitutional — $32 million.

$50 Million Budgeted For Mental Health

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton today submitted a $50 million mental health budget to the Missouri legislature.

It envisioned a start on a 10-year program to improve the state's preventive and treatment facilities in the field of mental diseases. One of the key proposals, establishing of regional community mental health center, was recognized in an initial budget recommendation of $500,000.

That amount would be used to match local funds on a 50-50 basis in establishing and operating the centers, an effort to detect and cure mental disorders before they have progressed to the point of requiring hospital admission.

Dalton also proposed addition of 459 personnel at the five state hospitals and two training school-hospitals for defective children. Fifty of those would staff the new geriatrics building at Fulton State Hospital.

Ninety would staff the new administration and patient building at St. Louis State Hospital, expected to be ready for occupancy in 1963.

His budget, $6,380,000 more than that for the present two-year period, also would provide pay raises of 5 percent.

Dalton reduced sharply the hospitals' requests for major building money, however.

Administration of the big new program would cost $493,898. The total also included an expected $150,000 from federal funds for research and $500,000 for payment of patient care in licensed boarding or nursing homes. Of the total, $6,350,000 would come from the hospitals' earnings, the rest from state general revenue.

Here is a breakdown by hospital:

Fulton State Hospital—$9,825,972 for operations. Building money cut from requested $4,356,311 to $855,790.

St. Joseph State Hospital—$6,348,567 for operations. Building funds cut from $446,000 to $401,800.

Nevada State Hospital—$6,628,975 for operations. Building requests of $1,501,547 reduced to $435,630.

Farmington State Hospital—$5,774,851 for general operations. Requested building money of $1,020,600 reduced to $205,000.

St. Louis State Hospital—$12,406,335 for general operations. Requested $17,667,560 in the building funds cut to $2,324,880.

State Training School at Marshall-Carrollton-Higginsville—$5,767,840 for general operations. Building funds reduced from requested $13,838,466 to $803,191.

St. Louis State Training School—$3,649,258 for general operations. Building funds reduced from requested $6,214,806 to $1,134,675.

Missouri State Sanatorium at Mt. Vernon—$4,347,695 with $180,000 of that coming from institution's earnings. The hospital asked and got its single building request, $3,000 for repairing the water tower.

Ellis Fischel State Cancer Hospital at Columbia—$2,178,528 for general operations. Building requests of $17,727 reduced to $101,924.

State Federal Soldiers' Home at St. James—$657,373 for general operations. Its $272,800 in building requests reduced to $60,911.

Trooper Forced Into Ditch On Blood Mission

MONETT, Mo. (AP)—Highway Patrolman Glemman Keller of Neosho said a truck forced his patrol car into a ditch Monday night while he was relaying a supply of blood from Springfield to Stella, Mo.

Trooper Ted Andrus of Monett completed the delivery after a 10-minute delay. Hospital attendants at Stella said a patient, previously in critical condition, showed improvement after receiving the blood.

Osa Wilbur Shira, 49, Carl Junction, Mo., was charged with reckless and careless driving.

Keller, who escaped injury, said Shira's truck forced him into a ditch when he tried to pass on U.S. 60 west of Monett. Damage to the car was estimated at $300.

Your Eyes and Visual Functions

A prominent national magazine states editorially that a person unable to read in this complicated civilization in which we live does not have the ability to make informed decisions.

Few people realize how many persons there are who are unable to read, or how many who can read shun reading because their eyes and visual functions are not adapted to easy, rhythmic reading of the printed page. Teachers in the classroom are aware of this problem. So are optometrists who encounter it daily in their practices. Both groups are striving to develop better methods to enable a person to read easily and understand what he has read.

The Missouri Optometric Association, and the auxiliary groups associated with it provide many seminars and educational congresses each year to enable member optometrists to keep abreast of the research studies in this most important field.

The pre-school child and the child in the early grades should be under careful observation by a competent examiner to make sure that normal reading skills are being developed. At regular periods during the school years the student should have eyes examined and visual functions evaluated. There are far too many students in the classroom whose eyes and vision are poorly adapted for learning.

Adults in their thirties and early forties often give up reading, sometimes without realizing that they are shunning work at near point. This is a critical period and it is a wise person who gives thought to eyes and vision in these years.

Time Lag Between Presidents

Since the 1960 election the complaint has often been uttered that too much time exists between that date and the inauguration of a new president. There are those, however, who are arguing just the reverse—that the time is all too short to encompass the difficulties of transition.

The president-elect must choose not only his cabinet but hundreds of other top policy makers. Practically speaking, these ought to be selected before he takes office.

Beyond this, it would be helpful if he could get well under way on the burdensome chore of filling some 5,000 additional federal jobs which are not under civil service.

The president-elect and his key policy makers, furthermore, need every possible minute to learn the complexities of the problems and tasks they will face. It's not like taking over the presidency of a corporation with which you are already largely familiar.

The fine-threaded intricacies of government today cannot be quickly grasped but must be mastered slowly and surely. The 10½ weeks between election and inauguration may not be enough.

As some observers have shrewdly pointed out, the president-elect not only needs time to study policy matters, he needs the opportunity to draw counsel from many varied sources which will not in every case be open to him once he is installed.

It is the one time in his presidential career when he can seek advice anywhere and everywhere without undercutting and handicapping established members of his top team.

As soon as he takes office, he is committed largely to listening to just that advice which his chosen policy makers give him. This is understandable, but it is undeniably limiting.

President-elect Kennedy is widely considered to have made good use of this advice-seeking period. But many feel it would be better if it were longer.

Those who favor a quicker change-over believe they are arguing for greater continuity of authority and action. It may well be that they are arguing for less. To thrust a new, unpracticed leadership team into office quickly might in fact produce a sharp break in the continuity of effective government.

Weird Committee on Decorations

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The Democrats have an interesting way of rewarding their enemies and kicking their friends. Witness their inaugural committee on decorations. Here is the membership:

CHARLES PATRICK CLARK, the registered lobbyist and agent for Dictator Franco of Spain; paid $75,000 a year to put appropriations for Franco through Congress. Democratic candidates no later than last fall were panning Eisenhower for being too friendly with Franco. Now Franco's paid agent is chairman of the inaugural decorations committee.

MAJ. GEN. CHARLES WILLOUGHBY, former intelligence chief for General MacArthur. Willoughby has been testifying before Congress that foreign aid, a program originated by FDR and Truman, should be scrapped and the United States should become isolationist.

MAJ. GEN. HARRY VAUGHAN, irrepressible aide to President Truman. At least Vaughan does know something about decorations. It was when he accepted that decoration from Dictator Peron of Argentina during the height of Peron's attacks on the USA, that I picked the Argentine embassy here and was made the founding member of the "servants of brotherhood" by Harry Truman.

White Tie Rebels
It hasn't received the same headlines as other inaugural preparations, but the battle of the white tie has been waged vociferously behind the scenes on Capitol Hill.

Leader of the white tie revolt is Sen. Gale McGee, Democrat, former professor of history at the University of Wyoming, who has been trying to organize fellow senators into a boycott of white ties and tails at the Kennedy inaugural ball. McGee, who has no white tie and tails, and does have a lot of grandchildren he has to support on a senator's salary, didn't relish spending about 200 bucks for full dress for only one evening. Neither did a lot of other senators. And for a time, approximately two dozen Democrats swore to stand firm against pressure from their wives and wear black ties instead of white.

They reckoned, however, without three Senate liberals, one of them the only senator who spent much of his life as a member of the AFL pipefitters union.

It was Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota who first broke ranks. Plainly, McCarthy explained that he would be flanked at the inauguration by two white tie-wearing senators, both tall, both liberals, and both addicted to full dress. Sen. Ed Muskie of Maine had bought himself a set of tails when he was inaugurated, twice, as governor of Maine. He wanted to get some more use out of the regalia.

But the greatest blow was Sen. Pat McNamara of Michigan. McCarthy accused McNamara of making a serious social error. No member of the pipefitters union should be caught dead in white tie and tails. Somewhat sheepishly, McNamara explained that he really expected to wear them when he was dead. He had once accepted an invitation, not knowing that he had to wear a white tie, and at the last minute was unable to rent a full dress suit that would fit him. In desperation he bought one. He never expected to wear it again except at his own funeral, but now that Kennedy has decreed top hats and white ties, Pat thinks he should get some use out of his full dress suit.

Sen. Quentin Burdick of North Dakota was one of the original rebels, but has now submitted to pressure from Mrs. Burdick. He is searching for a proper suit. All this caused a general break in Senator McGee's black tie brigade. One stubborn holdout, however, is Sen. Bob Bartlett of Alaska, who has warned ominously that he may show up at the inaugural ball in black tie and long Alaskan underwear.

Laugh at Fidel
A SUGGESTION TO PRESIDENT-ELECT KENNEDY — The only wise treatment for Fidel Castro is to get Latin America laughing at him. We have been threatening him, sending airplane carriers, landing Marines for exercises in Guantanamo, making belligerent statements.

But there is nothing more devastating than ridicule. And right now Castro is sitting on the edge of Havana harbor with sandbags and artillery, awaiting an American invasion which hasn't come and was never contemplated. He could be the laughingstock of Cuba and Latin America.

The Cuban magazine Bohemia which once ridiculed Batista and other Cuban foibles, has now been censored by Castro. But some of its staff, experts in satire, are around Miami. Why not get them to do a special edition on Castro's defense against the mythical Yankee invasion, then drop it by airplane over Cuba?

Unheralded Exit
The Army has quietly ordered all officers above the rank of major to line Pentagon corridors on January 20 to bid good-bye to outgoing secretary of the Army Wilbur Brucker. He will go back to Michigan where he was once Republican governor.

At first the Army merely passed out word that it would be "a nice gesture" to stage this send-off, and asked how many would volunteer. There were so few volunteers that the Army has now made it "an order."

Brucker fought hard for the Army, frequently got in wrong with his chief in the White House, an ex-Army man. He battled for appropriations, more mechanized divisions, and recently against Ike's order to bring dependents home. However, in Washington no one is interested in outgoing bureaucrats, only in the new.

Merry-Go Round
Correction: In the interim after the column of Jan. 12 went to press and before publication, John Deere withdrew its offer to finance the food for peace float depicting the idea that American food surpluses should be used to feed the hungry abroad. Instead, General Mills took over. Its name will be on the float, and it is not seeking publicity, but I wanted to make this correction. . . . Ike has been telling friends that young Jack Kennedy may make a good president after all—if he ignores advice to see the outgoing president for a second meeting just before the inauguration. He has also remarked that he wished he could have been able to persuade the same calibre men to work for him as surround Kennedy.

Value of Worry

"If a man wants to worry, let him. The idea that a nervous man must be removed from a situation, leave work, calm down and rest is a delusion."

Those are the words of Dr. Gerald Gordon, chief psychiatrist with the medical division of the Du Pont Company. While agreeing that occasional vacations are necessary, he adds: "Modern man seems to have forgotten that life itself is a conflict. So is society. The full free life, which often includes a good scrap, has become secondary to the desire for constant peace and tranquility."

Are We Civilized

Another much-wanted Nazi has been found in Germany. For 15 years, former S. S. Major Richard Baer, last commandant of the infamous Auschwitz concentration camp, has been living the life of a quiet, sober workman.

It is a reverberation of an almost unbelievable phase of the war in which what we must take to be normal human beings participated without question in years of brutal, uncivilized acts. It is a dark chapter, incomprehensible to most Americans.

Pacing Our Age

It is something of a shock to note that the Martin Co., one of the pioneer airplane manufacturers in this country, has built its last airplane. From now on it will concentrate on missile and space work.

It is a shock, that is, to many of the older generation still living who were children or young adults before the airplane was even invented. It is no surprise to the children of today, impatient to conquer the planets,

The World Today

Expanding Military Expenses Pictured

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This gives a picture of how government expenses have gone up, particularly military expenses.

In 1950 President Truman sent his last budget to Congress before the Korean War started. It called for a total of only $42.5 billion for all government expenses. Out of the total, he said, the military needed only $13.5 billion.

Came the war. Expense soared. The war ended over six years ago. But increased government responsibilities have kept expenses high. And military expenses, because of the intense contest with communism, have mounted.

In his budget message to Congress Monday President Eisenhower asked almost $81 billion—nearly double the $42.5 billion Truman requested to cover all government spending.

And—whereas Truman asked for only $13.5 for the military, out of his total budget of $42.5 billion, Eisenhower requests $42.9 billion for the armed forces, more than Truman asked for the whole government in 1950.

But Eisenhower's budget—for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and ending June 30, 1962—will be both a memory piece and a yardstick.

In figuring a budget every agency of government has to estimate how much it will need to run another year. All these figures are reviewed and reviewed in an effort to keep them down.

This all takes a lot of time and doing, so much that the Eisenhower administration began putting together last fall the budget Eisenhower turned over to Congress Monday.

Obviously President-elect John F. Kennedy won't have time for all this. He won't submit his own budget until this time next year. But this year his administration will have spending ideas different from Eisenhower's.

Since Kennedy's ideas on what needs to be done—expressed in the campaign—go beyond anything Eisenhower had in mind in his budget, Kennedy probably will want to spend more than Eisenhower allowed for.

He'll run into a lot of criticism and heckling on this. His critics will use Eisenhower's budget estimates as a yardstick for measuring Kennedy's programs.

Still, Eisenhower was dealing in optimism in telling Congress he thought that he had figured things so closely that the government should wind up in the black.

While he suggested spending about $81 billion, he thought government income, from taxes and other revenue, would be even larger and that the country would wind up with a surplus of about $1.5 billion.

But this was optimism based on the hope that there would be a surplus only if the country became more prosperous and Congress increased postal rates and the gasoline tax and set up a new tax on jet fuel. Maybe it would, but its inclinations the other way.

Reject Extensive Additions

Survey Used In Allotting Money to State's Colleges

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A special survey of Missouri's universities and colleges was used in Gov. John M. Dalton's budgets for those institutions. For the most part he rejected extensive additions of classrooms and applied building money to repairs that have been needed for some time.

His budget also reflected an effort to bring salary scales up to the national average and the general inflation of operational costs. Faculty salaries at the University of Missouri in Columbia and its Mines and Metallurgy branch at Rolla, for instance, would average out at $8,185 for the coming school year and $8,643 for the next year.

The operations money was increased 5.5 per cent the first year and 6.7 per cent the second to offset increased enrollment. It also was boosted 2 per cent each year to meet expected inflation.

Here's how each institution survived Dalton's scrutiny:

The university, Columbia—$21,569,054 for general operations, $2,825,506 for agricultural extension service, $2,922,524 for school of medicine, $2,579,533 for agricultural experiment station. The university asked $12,870,000 in building money but would get only $4,619,000.

School of Mines, Rolla—$4,122,045 for general operations. Building requests cut from $4,383,000 to $1,310,000.

Lincoln University, Jefferson City—$2,447,173 for operations. Average teaching salaries would be $7,076 for the coming school year and $7,257 for the next year. Other operational costs are hiked 10 per cent a year.

Lincoln asked $1,784,550 in building money but would get only $701,832.

For the five state teacher colleges, Dalton recommended average teacher salaries of $7,193 the first year and an increase of four per cent the second year. The budget also allows for expected enrollment and inflationary increases.

The figures:
Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, Kirksville—$3,512,407 in operational money. Building funds, cut from $5,639,984 to $664,940.

Northwest State, Maryville—$2,898,581 for operations. Building funds cut from $2,090,948 to $783,423.

Central State Warrensburg—$4,983,680 for operations. Building money cut to $1,625,000.

Southeast State, Cape Girardeau—$3,578,457 in operations. Requests of $2,106,483 in building money cut to $849,924.

Southwest State, Springfield—$3,885,188 for operations. Building money reduced from requested $1,935,674 to $165,064.

School for Blind, St. Louis—$771,661 to pay teachers $450 more the first year and $200 more the second and to recognize an expected increase of about 10 in enrollment. Requested $387,470 in capital improvements cut to $141,319.

School for Deaf, Fulton—$1,186,128, including pay raises and some increase in enrollment. The $202,150 building request cut to $69,133.

Claims for Germ Killers Are Not All-Embracing

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
Unhappy consequences may result from a false sense of security, arising from unwarranted claims made in behalf of germ killers.

To take the simplest example, let us assume that you rinsed your mouth, gargled or sprayed your nose with a germicide. Let us also accept that unlikely proposition that, by your action, you completely sterilized the treated area. Yet, within an hour or so at the very most, examination of the recently sterilized area would surely reveal a bacterial population that differed little, if at all, from that which was present before the germicide was applied.

If this observation were not correct, doctors and nurses would not have to put on sterile rubber gloves after they'd completed a 10-minute surgical scrub of their hands.

Take another example. Let us assume that you've cut your finger and poured a germicide into the wound. If you used a concentrated solution, you'd be apt to give yourself a chemical burn and thus provide the bacterial invaders with a rich supply of dead tissue on which they could feed, grow fat and multiply.

If you used a weaker concentration, that would be further diluted by the blood and tissue fluids that continue to ooze out of the cut surfaces, you might kill some bacteria but the survivors would soon make up for these losses by reproducing new generations every 20 minutes or so.

What then, you may ask, is the meaning of tests that show complete absence of bacterial growth in glass test tubes or plates after they've been treated with germicide?

They have very little meaning.

I'm afraid. You see there are bacteria and bacteria, just as there are various kinds of animals.

Some of the bacteria that live on our skin surfaces and in our body cavities do us neither harm nor good. They are called commensals which means literally that we dine with them at the same table (mensa: table).

With other bacterial species we have mutual assistance pacts. These allies are called symbions which means that the survival of each of us is dependent, to a degree on the survival of the other. The myriads of colon bacilli, for example, that live in our intestinal tracts perform important functions for us. Indeed, we would have difficulty surviving without them. When we kill them off, as we occasionally must before an intestinal operation, we're apt to get ourselves into very serious difficulties. They, on the other hand, cannot continue to exist unless we continue to exist.

Finally there are the really villainous bacteria or pathogens. Many pathogens are easily destroyed in test tubes which is much like breaking clay pigeons in a shooting gallery. Killing them in the human body is more like stalking wild animals in the jungle and having to shoot them while they're charging.

Killing commensals and symbions, whether in test tube or in the body, is like going hunting and coming home with a string of pussy cats while tigers and lions continue to roam in the woods back of the house.

Scientists must do better than that if we're going to wipe out the common cold, epidemics of influenza, poliomyelitis and other infections.

The Mature Parent

Justifying Resentment Is Mark of Self-Pitier

Mrs. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Each of Mrs. T's children is pledged to send her $20 a month to supplement her social security income. But as usual this month her youngest daughter has delayed sending her check.

So again this morning as she turned away from her disappointing mailbox, Mrs. T's thoughts assembled themselves in their customary pattern. She thought:

"Mina knows another payment is due on my dentures. But she doesn't care if I get into trouble with Dr. Pratt. What a thanks for all I have done! How careful I used to be to see that she got what she needed . . . that time I got her the winter coat when my teeth were killing me. That was how I lost my two molars, Dr. Pratt always said."

"But if I need anything who cares? If I get sick, would Mina take me in? I wonder. But that winter she was so sick with the measles, I didn't get a wink of sleep for two weeks. What a return for all I have done . . ."

Mrs. T, like all self-pitying people, has to find justification for any resentment she feels. She is so ashamed of resenting her daughter that she has to locate all kinds of good-sounding excuses for feeling it.

Self-pity is a weakening thing because it contains not a smidgen of self-respect. If Mrs. T respected herself, her self-respect would include respect for her resentment at Mina. Instead of having to recall her past virtues to justify it, she'd just march into the house and write this note to Mina:

"Dear Mina,
"Your check is late again. If you don't want to send this money every month, please say so—and I will try to make other arrangements. With not too much affection at the moment, Mother."

But the victim of self-pity has always to disconnect herself from open resentment. Always be re-collecting her noble past, she has to try and sell herself the right to feel it.

It is immoral to put up with a need to glorify resentment.

So when we indulge self-pity, the questions are:
"Why do I have to be so glorious? Why can't I have a low-down feeling without having to seek high-up reasons for it? Why can't I let my child know me as I am? Who am I putting on this act for anyway? What has it done for me?"

May Seek A Revision Of Ike Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders predicted today that the incoming Kennedy administration would ask substantial revisions in President Eisenhower's budget.

In view of the lagging economy, some Democrats challenged Eisenhower's contention that his $80.9 billion financial blueprint submitted to Congress Monday would provide enough income for a $1.5-billion surplus in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Republicans generally defended the Eisenhower estimates. But some of them were critical of the proposal to put another $4 billion into foreign aid.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Eisenhower had set aside only "minimum amounts" for housing, urban renewal and aid to education programs expected to be pushed by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Mansfield said that Congress is likely to provide at least $100 million in depressed area assistance instead of the $10 million Eisenhower budgeted.

The Democratic leader said the balance in the budget "disappears on close inspection," he indicated he doesn't believe Congress will raise postal rates $843 million or increase gasoline taxes $900 million. Eisenhower used these figures to bolster an estimated $82.3 billion in receipts.

ship, many a business association, many a plan.

When we assume instead of asking questions we can be pretty sure that a good part of the time our assumptions will be wrong.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

E. C. Hamilton, president of the Sedalia Park board, stated that fifty-two trees have been planted recently in Liberty park and some at Washington park. At Liberty park there are fifteen Moline elms, fifteen hard maples, five pin oaks, two weeping willows and fifteen Chinese elms. The park board plans to plant fifty trees each year for three years to replace those taken out, killed by drought and sleet. Next year four walnut trees, three pecans and three butternut trees will be planted "to keep the squirrels at home," Mr. Hamilton explained.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mullen, 403 Dal-Whi-Mo Court, was the scene of a merry gathering when the losing members of their five hundred club entertained the winners at their annual luncheon. Among those present were Messrs and Mesdames E. R. Harris, John Petty, C. D. Warren, Edward Hoffman, T. H. Yount and R. E. Mullen.

The Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Ottumwa held its annual meeting and elected the following officers: President, H. D. Case; vice-president, J. E. Golladay; Cashier, A. S. CAPE GIRARDEAU MISSOURIAN: Breathe Easily.—So you have a cold? Or a sinus trouble? Or a virus of some sort which you cannot seem to shake? Before you put too much blame on Mother Nature and the climate, give a thought to a factor which is worrying some scientists—air pollution.

If a lot of us are having trouble breathing, and wondering what's got into our noses and throats, the scientists remind us that for a lot of it we ourselves are responsible.

City people depend upon combustion of fuel to run their factories, heat their homes and propel their cars and buses. But present combustion processes are imperfect. That means fumes, smoke and smog.

Further, one scientist notes: "The long lines of cars entering almost any city at the end of a week end result in a tonnage of air pollution equivalent to bringing a smelter into the city."

Present air-cleaning methods are expensive. So let's hope those scientists come up with something simple, cheap and effective. And we don't mean gas masks.

We, the Women

We Need to Learn Art Of Asking Good Questions

Far from asking too many questions, most adults don't ask enough.

We don't ask enough questions when we are buying, when we are making plans and arrangements, when we are accepting responsibilities, and when we are making important decisions.

And when plans don't turn out as we anticipated, when things aren't what we expected them to be, when what we thought was a sound decision turns out to be a poor one, when we get stuck with a purchase that isn't exactly what we wanted, we say helplessly, "I just assumed . . ."

And we feel cheated or put upon or stupid, depending on the situation, simply because we assumed too much.

Sometimes we don't ask questions because we don't take the trouble to figure out just what questions we should ask.

Sometimes we hesitate to ask questions because we don't want to appear naive or ignorant.

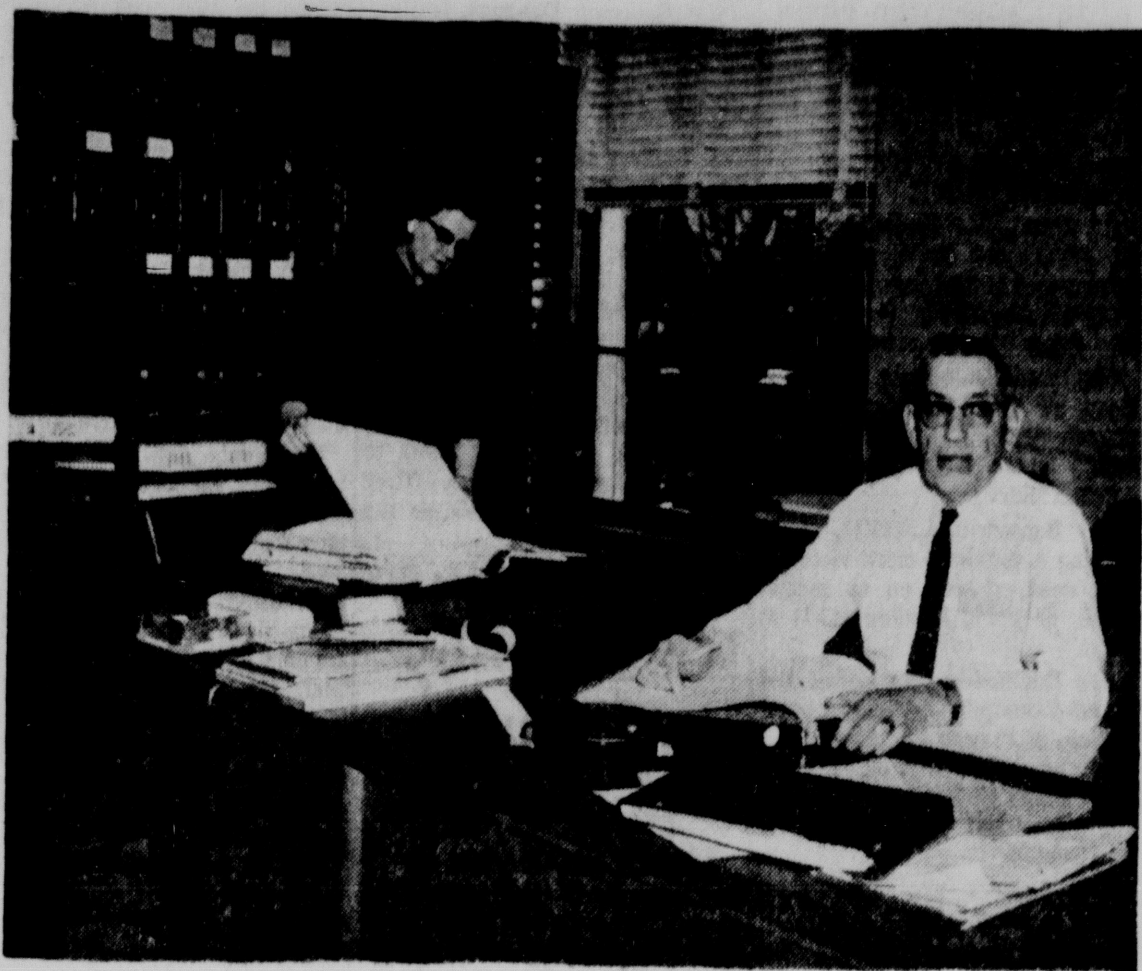

But whatever the reason for our not finding out what we need to know we usually excuse our negligence with that perfect alibi, "I just assumed . . ."

Once in a while we are honest enough with ourselves and others to qualify, "I just assumed . . ." with "I guess I shouldn't have . . ." or "There was no reason why I should have . . ."

But more often we blame the other person for not making things more clear, more explicit. And that ends many a friend-

Bryan Howe, Circuit Clerk Has Served County 21 Years

(Editor's Note: This is another in the current series of articles concerning city and county officials, their staffs and responsibilities.)

Bryan Howe has been circuit clerk since 1939, but went in the office as deputy clerk in 1935 under John Perdue. He served four years in that capacity.

Mrs. Mamie McMullin has been deputy clerk since 1955. Her principal duties are typing the records and helping out at the counter when needed.

The circuit clerk handles the records of the circuit court. That includes cases appealed from the lower courts, magistrate and probate.

There are some 350 to 400 civil cases tried in the circuit court during the year and 30 to 40, or perhaps more, criminal cases.

The civil cases are about 40 per cent divorces. Others include notes, accounts, garnishee proceedings, adoption and juvenile records. The law prohibits the publication of records of the two latter.

Howe stated that a complete set of records from the first in 1833 is in his office, and that none of the records in that office appear to be missing. The first book was started in 1833 in an old mill at Newland.

It is in the circuit clerk's office where transcript judgment is filed from the lower courts. Some passport applications are made there, too, but it is not a duty of the office. However the circuit clerk is permitted to do this and the practice has been to take care of the applications of this nature both for private citizens as well as people from the Air Base.

The sale of law books is handled through this office, too. When there is a change in laws or new laws, the Secretary of State sends a supply to the circuit clerk where they are placed on sale.

The circuit clerk makes monthly reports to the county treasurer and county clerk. Fees earned by the office are turned over to the county treasurer.

Four times a year the circuit clerk gets out a docket, one for each term of court. These formerly were printed but now are mimeographed. These forms list all cases coming up in that term of court, the names of the people involved, the names of the lawyers, and the date set for the cases. Prior to the time when Cooper County was in circuit with Pettis County there were eight terms of court a year, four for criminal and four for civil, Howe explained. Now jurors do not know whether the cases they are called for are civil or criminal until the case comes up.

There are between some 50,000 and 75,000 files in the circuit clerk's office, Howe said, for they are not permitted to dispose of any court files.

When a case comes in, he stated, it is given a number and it retains that number. If, for any reason, that case comes up again it still has the same number. It is pulled out of the files and put back with the same number.

Howe has an old death warrant he ran across signed by the sheriff on which was "hanging by the neck until he was dead." It is edged in black and the seal was painted black, however, some of the black is coming off the seal. This is one of two warrants for legal hanging, Howe stated, although there may be others in the files, those are the only two he has happened to run across.

Capital Improvements Cut

Corrections Budget Gets Provision for Two Raises

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton provided for five per cent raises each year in his two-year budget for correctional institutions today but used the ax on many capital improvement proposals.

At both the Chillicothe and Boonville training schools he recommended additional salary money so the work week could be reduced from 48 to 40 hours. He provided additional money so the board of probation and parole could hire at least five more parole officers each year to reduce their caseloads.

Here is how each institution fared: Corrections department administration — $266,151 for pay raises annually and to establish the position of administrative assistant to the director.

State penitentiary, Jefferson City — $6,206,832 with enough included for pay raises. Dalton cut the $158,390 capital improvements request to $18,784, for a commissary building.

Now building medium security prison, Moberly — An appropriation of $206,640 for the first 26 jobs available when the facility is opened in 1962.

Women's prison, Tipton — $272,128 for operations, including pay raises.

Alcoa Reformatory, Jefferson City — $1,249,887 for operations including pay increases. Requested $70,400 in building money reduced to 11,444 for new roofs on seven buildings and an observation tower.

Prison education system — $331,437.

Prison industries and farms — $2,681,160.

Administration of Training schools — $284,732.

Training school for boys, Boonville — $1,688,133, including pay raises and additional personnel: $135,895 building program reduced to $54,532.

Training school for girls, Chillicothe — $896,079, including enough pay raises and additional person-

The jury, he said, is called by the circuit clerk, but jury trials are not as numerous as they used to be. There were many of them when he first went in the office. Now many of the cases are filed and the people involved and their lawyers get together and settle them without a jury.

Women are now used on the jury, Howe stated, but it is optional whether they serve or not. They were not used on juries when he first took office, he said. A man under 65 is required to serve unless he gets permission by the court. A man over 65 need not serve unless he wants to.

Shelley Berman, Well Paid To Make Audiences Laugh

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the land that pays for laughs.

In 1961 Shelley Berman will gross about three quarters of a million dollars — several times President John F. Kennedy's take home pay — for being funny.

A very few years ago Shelley and his wife, Sarah, a former actress, hitchhiked across the continent looking for work.

Today Berman, a Navy veteran, is one of the darlings of the sophisticates. He has been paid $15,400 for a one-night stand. He has been paid $12,500 for a seven-minute appearance on television.

It all wound up with Berman being one of the highest-paid comedy performers of his generation.

Before he hit the big time with his wry portraits of civilized man adjusting to the problems of civilization, Shelley worked as a cab driver, a speech teacher, a drug clerk, a ballroom dancing instructor, and a free-lance writer.

What has success meant to him after a dozen years of failure

Jayhawks Out

K-State All Alone Atop Cage Ladder

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas State was all alone at the top of the Big Eight basketball conference today after Oklahoma State's Cowboys rode herd on Kansas and knocked the Jayhawks out of first place.

Tenth ranked Kansas State, beaten in a playoff last spring by Kansas for the right to enter the NCAA tournament, is primed to meet Kansas in a major showdown Friday night on the Jay-hawk court at Lawrence. Last month in the Big Eight tournament, K-State beat Kansas in overtime in the finals, 69-66.

The tight defense and controlled offense of Coach Hank Iba's Oklahoma State crew paid off Monday night at Lawrence, and it was the coach's son, Moe, who clinched the 54-49 decision.

With the Cowboys leading only 50-49 and 34 seconds left, young Iba sank two free throws and Kansas was done, suffering their initial conference defeat after three victories.

Oklahoma State, which had lost four in a row, ran up a 33-27 half-time lead on some dead-eye field goal firing. During the second half, Kansas led once 45-44, but nobody but Wayne Hightower could find the range for the Jayhawks. Hightower scored 26 points which was tops for the game.

Two of the top 10 teams in the Associated Press poll saw action, with fourth-ranked Iowa coming from behind in the last half on Don Nelson's 18 points to beat Illinois 78-71 in a Big Ten Conference game. Iowa, now 12-1 for the season, remains in the Big Ten lead with a 4-0 mark. Nelson finished with 25 points, while Jerry Colangelo had 20 for Illinois.

North Carolina (No. 6) ran up its ninth straight victory for an 11-2 overall mark by downing Maryland 58-52 in an Atlantic Coast Conference tilt. The Tar Heels now boast a 4-0 league mark, right after eighth-ranked Duke (5-0), idle until after mid-term examinations. Doug Moe got 26 points for North Carolina, which scored its final 12 points from the free throw line.

Mississippi State took over undisputed lead in the Southeastern Conference (4-0) by defeating Georgia Tech 62-61 in overtime. State's Jerry Graves came up with six points, four in the final minute of the extra session and totaled 28 for the evening. Roger Kaicher tallied 31 for Georgia Tech.

Vanderbilt, which had an 11-0 record before losing Saturday to Mississippi State, dropped a second straight conference game when Mississippi beat the Commodores 74-72. The teams were tied 11 times before the Rebels took the lead midway in the second half. Jack Waters had 33 points for Mississippi, while Vanderbilt's Bill Depp had 23.

Wake Forest poured it in on the last 10 minutes of an Atlantic Conference game to bury Clemson 86-85, and give the Deacons a 7-1 league mark behind Duke and North Carolina. Len Chappell plunked in 33 points for Wake Forest, while Choppy Patterson had 24 for the losers.

The Citadel, which had been in a 5-1 tie with West Virginia and Virginia Tech for the Southern Conference lead, dropped to second place when Furman defeated the Cadets 92-84. Furman's Jerry Smith (28) and Gerald Glur and Tom Conrad (22 each) did the big damage.

Colorado, which had been 2-1 behind Kansas and Kansas State in the Big Eight race, dropped a 56-47 decision to Oklahoma.

The Texas Longhorns, in a three-way tie with Texas A&M and Texas Tech for the Southwest Conference lead, took over sole possession of first place by downing A and M 81-76. Texas is now 4-1, with Tech 3-1 and A and M 3-2. Carroll Bousard collected 37 points for A and M while Albert Almanza had 23 for Texas.

Minnesota scored its first Big Ten victory by downing Northwestern 66-54. Michigan State also took its first conference decision by downing Michigan 81-69.

Wilt Heads Into Tonight's Game As Top Scorer

NEW YORK (AP)—Towering Wilt Chamberlain, Philadelphia's peerless pointmaker, heads into tonight's National Basketball Association all-star game as the league's top scorer, most accurate shooter and best rebounder.

League statistics released today show the Warriors' ace with a 53-point bulge over runner-up Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles in the hotly contested battle for individual scoring honors. Chamberlain has scored 1,616 points for a 37.6 a game average.

Baylor has scored 1,563 points for a 34.7 average while maintaining his lead over third place Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati. Robertson, a rookie, has 1,465 points and a 31.2 average for a commanding margin over teammate Jack Twyman, holding fourth place with 1,220 points.

Chamberlain is tops in field goal percentage with a .482 mark, slightly better than Twyman's .480. The still is No. 1 in rebounds with 1,212 for a 28.2 average that gives him a wide edge over Boston's Bill Russell.

Ingemar Has Secret He's Not Telling

NEW YORK (AP)—Ingemar Johansson has a secret and he's not telling a soul.

"I know for sure what I did wrong in my last fight with Floyd Patterson," he said today, "but let it be a secret with me."

Then he proceeded to list an armful of reasons why Patterson won the heavyweight championship from him with a fifth-round knockout last June 20.

1. He fought too many exhibitions after winning the title from Patterson in 1959, and that made things too easy for him.

2. He lost six pounds the night before the fight and entered the ring at 192. This time he wants to hit 196 or 198.

3. Anyhow, it was a sucker punch that caught him on the button.

Johansson arrived Monday night from Paris, and will attend the New York Boxing Writers dinner tonight where Patterson will get the Boxer of the Year award. Then he heads for Florida to look for a training camp. The third go in their series is scheduled for Miami Beach on March 13.

"I've looked at the films of the fight many times," said Johansson and I still don't know how I ever got caught with that punch. It never happened to me before and I don't intend to let it happen this time.

"After all, I knocked Floyd out once and stunned him in the second fight. I'm sure I'll win this one. I've knocked him out a thousand times in my dreams and I know they'll come true."

Maybe the dreams told him what round he would finish Patterson?

"Nope," he answered, "I can't tell what round it will be. But I know I'll beat him."

Ingo said he had been boxing seven or eight rounds a day and doing five or six miles of roadwork a day for the past two months.

"Now," he observed, "I'm ready to start serious training."

Stover Takes LaMonte Monday In 64-25 Game

Stover outclassed LaMonte all the way Monday night to romp home with a 64-25 victory.

In the encounter, which was played at Stover, LaMonte was close to Stover only at the end of the first quarter when Stover led 10-8.

In the second quarter, Stover opened up with heavy ammunition to pick up 23 points while LaMonte scored only four. Half-time score was 33-12, Stover.

Although Stover took it easier in the second half, LaMonte was unable to mount any offense.

In the final tally, Stover's Wilbanks led the night's scoring with 25, followed by teammates Larry Shackelford, with 17, and Beckman with 14. Beckman, by the way, had a good night on the backboard, picking up 20 rebounds.

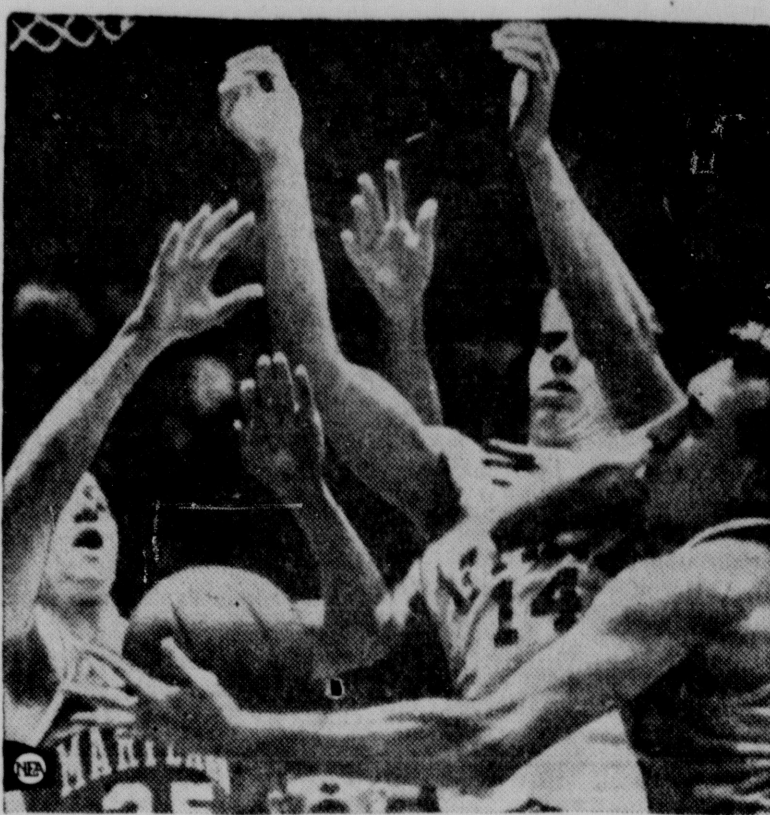

Best scoring effort for LaMonte was turned in by Curtis with 13. In the evening's "B" game Stover also came out the winner, 25-20. DeLong led Stover scoring with eight, while four LaMonte "B" cagers shared scoring honors with four apiece.

For Stover, the game was a good warm-up for the Stover Tournament which gets underway Wednesday night. In the first evening's action, Stover is pitted against St. Elizabeth's. Tournament games start Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 6:45 and Friday at 7.

Stover's 10 23 14 17-64
LaMonte 8 4 6 7-25
Scoring—Stover: Wilbanks, 23; Larry Shackelford, 17; Beckman, 14; Darrell Shackelford, 7; Spaulding, 1; LaMonte: Curtis, 13; Drunert, 6; Davis, 4; Rumpf, 2.

Hamey Hopes So

Is Mantle Going To Be Next $100,000 Player?

NEW YORK (AP)—Is Mickey Mantle going to be baseball's next $100,000 a year baseball player?

"We hope so," said General Manager Roy Hamey of the New York Yankees after signing his star centerfielder to a $75,000 contract Monday. "We'd like nothing better than to pay—that is, if Mickey shows he's worth it."

"I don't doubt he will. Casey Stengel always insisted the boy was going to make it."

Mantle's new contract is the best he has signed in his 11 years with the Yankee organization—a $100,000 hike over the reduced wage he got last year.

Mickey, 29, said he felt he had not reached his real potential as a player. "I don't remember when I have felt better at this stage," he said. "I ought to have my best year."

He added that he had disposed of a Dallas bowling alley, which caused him some concern last year, and had divested himself of all outside interests which might take his mind off baseball.

"I still have a small hand in a motel (Joplin, Mo.) and a boat company (Henderson, Tex.) but I'm letting other people worry about them," Mickey said. "I have no other business now but baseball."

At $75,000, Mantle is the highest paid performer in the American League and only a notch behind the National League's top-salaried star, Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, at $85,000.

Mantle, who struck out 125 times last season but hit 40 home runs, said his aim was to cut down on strikeouts and build up his batting average, which fell to .275.

"I think I can do it by choking up on the bat and not trying to kill the ball on the third strike," the switch-hitting centerfielder said.

At a news conference the crew-cut Oklahoman parried questions deftly.

What did he think about the Yankees' new manager, Ralph Houk?

"A manager can't hit and run for you. He can only command respect. If he has the team's respect, he can do all right, and I think Houk has everybody's respect. They'll try to win for him."

And about Casey Stengel?

"He was a good manager. Everything he said about me, I deserved."

What about shifting to a strictly right-handed hitter?

"No. I had a bad year batting left-handed last season but I can still bat left-handed. I'll continue a switch hitter."

Any aims for 1961?

"Sure, I'd like to hit .500, but I'll settle for a .300 batting average, 100 runs batted in and 40 homers."

Is this the best contract you've had since you became a star?

"Since I became a star—what do you mean since I became a star?"

He flushed. Modesty still becomes Mantle, the Yankees' $75,000 a year man.

Ohio State Rolls Along In Top Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mighty Ohio State, one of the two remaining undefeated teams in the country, rolled along as the No. 1 outfit in The Associated Press poll for the fifth straight week today.

As usual, the Buckeyes were the unanimous choice of the 36 sportscasters and sports writers from all sections of the country who comprise the panel.

That gave Ohio State the maximum of 360 points on a 12-0 record. DePaul, the other undefeated team (11-0) jumped into seventh place.

St. Bonaventure (13-1), after scoring a couple of more victories last week, pushed up to second place, dropping Bradley (13-1) to third.

The Bonnies had 277 points and Bradley compiled 247 on the usual system of 10 points for first place, 9 for second and so on. Bradley went down to its first defeat of the season last week, a 60-59 loss to Houston.

The leaders with first place votes in parenthesis:

1. Ohio State (36) 360
2. St. Bonaventure 277
3. Bradley 247
4. Iowa 203

6. North Carolina 134
7. DePaul 127
8. Duke 121
9. St. John's 112

Mays Only Thing Set With Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—About the only thing set with the San Francisco Giants for 1961 is Willie Mays in center field.

Willie probably will be in his customary No. 3 spot, but Manager Alvin Dark says he isn't sure about that.

Quite a contrast with last year when you could almost tick off the batting order before the club went into spring training.

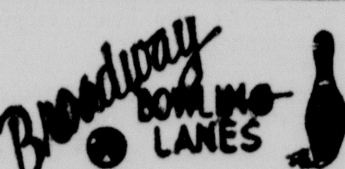

"We're going into training with a lot of things in mind," Dark declared. "How we go in is not necessarily how we'll come out."

Can he find a capable relief pitcher? Will Willie McCovey regain his '59 batting form? Where will Harvey Kuenn fit in? Will any rookies make the grade? Can the Giants land another starting hurler? How about catching?

Those are questions Dark faces. Right-hander Jack Sanford could become the relief pitcher.

Dark told a news conference Monday, "If Sanford's control is dependable, he could be very useful. He is a fellow who likes to pitch. It's been proven the more he works, the better he is."

On McCovey, who flopped last season after being the rookie of the year in 1959, Dark said, "McCovey tried to pull the ball because he thought the wind would help him if he pulled. I think if he goes back to hitting through the middle and just hits where the ball is, he'll be a good hitter again."

In Last-Ditch Surge

Dragons Win First Round In New Franklin Tourney

The Bunceton Dragons, trailing by four points with three minutes to go, put on a last ditch surge Monday night to edge the Pilot Grove Tigers, 58-56, in a first round game of the 32nd annual New Franklin Invitational Tournament.

The game was a nip and tuck affair until Bunceton took a nine-point lead at 43-34 with one minute to go in the third quarter. However, the Tigers, who make it a habit of lying in ambush for their Cooper County Conference foes, scored four quick points to get back into contention. They trailed by only four, 44-40, as the third period ended.

Pilot Grove continued its drive behind the fine shooting of Roy Jeffries and R. Brownfield to pull into a 54-50 lead with three minutes remaining. It was to no avail, however, as Gerald Dicus and Howard Fields led a Bunceton surge that carried the Dragons to their 12th victory of the season against five losses.

Jeffries and Dicus, who lock up in a scoring duel every time they meet, tied for scoring honors with 25 each. Fields contributed 18 for the Dragons, and R. Brownfield added 15 for Pilot Grove.

Bunceton's girls also won their basketball game, defeating Pilot Grove, 24-14. Pilot Grove scored only four field goals in the second half.

Bunceton led by one at 11-10 at halftime, but Pilot Grove scored only four points in the second half, all on free throws. The Tigresses scored only two field goals for the night. Bunceton is now 11-7 for the season.

The next game for the Bunceton boys will be at 9 o'clock Thursday night when they will clash with either Hillsville or Ashland.

Bing Crosby Qualifiers Fight It Out

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Qualifiers for 16 open professional spots in Bing Crosby's $50,000 national pro-amateur golf classic were fighting it out today over the treacherous Pebble Beach course preparatory to the start of championship play Thursday.

Survivors of the qualifying test will fill out a field of 150 of the world's finest professionals, paired with an equal number of classy amateurs in this 20th playing of the famed Crosby clambake.

Defending titlist Ken Venturi, now shooting some of his best golf, will be on hand to attempt the difficult and rarely accomplished feat of repeating against the likes of Arnold Palmer plus a host of other former Crosby champions and tournament aces.

Palmer, noted for his surging finishes and leading money winner in the nation last year, will undoubtedly be the man to watch after coming from four strokes behind to win the San Diego Open Sunday in a "sudden death" playoff with Canada's Al Balding.

In the pro-amateur event, which along with the professional competition makes the Crosby a double tournament, Louisiana's Jay Hebert and his five-handicap amateur partner, Roger Kelly, will be on hand again to try to duplicate their 1958 victory.

Bud Ward and Bob Silvestri, pro-am winners last year, are teamed again in defense of their title.

Cape Indians Hold the Top MIAA Rating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cape Girardeau State Indians held the top rung in the MIAA basketball standings today, thanks to their own victory over Warrensburg State's Mules and an assist from the Maryville State Bearcats.

Cape Girardeau won its second conference game against no losses and brought its season record to 12-1 by beating luckless Warrensburg 76-73 at the Cape Monday night.

Maryville knocked Springfield's State Bears off the top with a 76-66 victory at Maryville. It left the two teams in a tie 2-1 for second place. Maryville has an 11-3 season mark, Springfield 6-8.

Bill Giesing scored 29 points for Cape in the Indians' hard-earned victory over Warrensburg. Bud Vallino made 20 points for the Mules, who have lost their first three MIAA games.

Maryville's victory was led by DeWayne Bond, who scored 23 points. Jerry Mezmarich added 17 points and got 13 rebounds. Jerry Stockard scored 19 points for Springfield and Jerry Kirksey made 16.

The Maryville victory avenged a 70-64 loss to the Bears in Springfield Jan. 6.

Two important MIAA games are scheduled for Saturday. Maryville will meet the Kirksville State Bulldogs, who have a 10-3 season record and are 1-2 in the conference, in Maryville. Warrensburg and Springfield play in Springfield There was no activity in the MCAU Monday night.

TV Weather Forecasters Miss Point

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—One thing you can say for television is that it's not content just to talk about the weather. It has done something about it—so much that it sometimes takes special skills to find the forecast in a TV weather report.

Obviously, the TV people with their marvelous visual tools could not allow some well-tailored announcer to look into the camera and say simply: "Tomorrow is going to be cold and rainy."

No, we have to see it. The weather reporter enthusiastically draws swooping lines on a map of the country while chattering merrily about highs roaring down and fronts building up.

Just as we are trying to figure out if that means a local hurricane or blizzard, our instructor slips in the forecast with the speed of light. If our attention is diverted for a second, we miss it.

But that isn't all. In our vicinity (and I suspect in yours, too) TV weather reporting is largely woman's work, and the woman is usually a glamor girl. Therefore, while the gentlemen of the great home audience are concentrating on her curves and the ladies are criticizing her clothes and hairdo, the forecast is beclouded further.

In our area, we have one weather girl who zips so fast through the high fronts and low pressures that she uses the leftover time reading fascinating tidbits from almanacs, about the anniversary of the Battle of Hastings or the lemmings march to the sea.

But then if we really want the official forecast, period, we need only to turn on our faithful radios.

Washington Makes Only Few Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dear Democrats:

Well, a lot of you have been away eight years but when you get back here Jan. 20 you won't find this old town changed much.

Same old pigeons in the park. Same old starlings in the trees. Same old traffic circles creating the same old confusion. We are Washington Circle and have moved that statue of George on a horse until it's all over.

We've talked about some new places—Gettysburg, Augusta and Palm Springs. We'll probably get used to Middleburg, Cape Cod and Palm Beach in time.

And, speaking of words, we finalize, formalize and concretize things now, you realize.

You're coming back just in time to get into the fuss stirring up about what kind of memorial to erect to Franklin D. Roosevelt. That seems appropriate for Democrats. We still haven't decided on the proper memorial for Teddy Roosevelt, but that's being left up to his children. We did erect one to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican. It's up on Capitol Hill.

There are a lot of new buildings around town and a lot of those old temporary "tempers" gone. Still a lot left, too. The government has been building great massive structures of stone and concrete with lots of windows in the modern manner. The new State Department addition down in Foggy Bottom is like that.

The new airport 23 miles out in Virginia is a modernistic lulu, but it won't be ready for a while. It's named for the late secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, a Republican.

The old buildings have not changed much. Since you left, we moved the east front of the Capitol out about 32 feet and cleaned it up. Makes the other buildings look dingy. There's a second Senate Office building and the steel skeleton of a third office building for the House members.

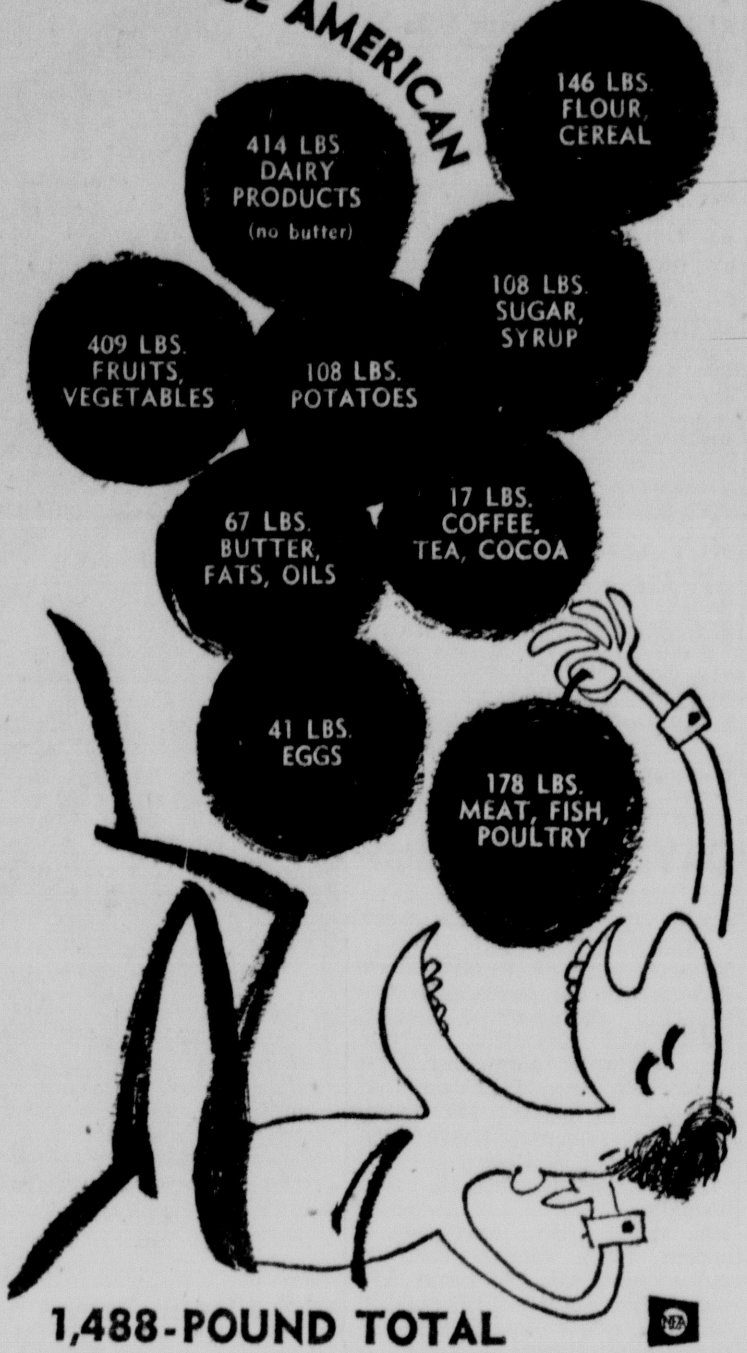

Oh, yes, we added a putting green to the White House lawn. But there's still plenty of room for touch football out back.

Most of the street cars are gone, replaced by buses. But the tracks still run down Pennsylvania Avenue, we still call it "The Avenue," the Capitol area is "The Hill," you remember.

Snowflakes still throw us in a tizzy. Rain is almost as bad. And it's true about the man who said, "Just let somebody spit on the street in Washington, and traffic gets snarled."

Now, you remember the old town, don't you?

Jap Commander Remembers Ramming Kennedy's Craft

EDITOR'S NOTE—In a World War II skirmish, President-elect John F. Kennedy's torpedo boat was rammed and sunk by a Japanese destroyer. Kennedy was 26 at the time and his adversary, Lt. Comdr. Kohei Hanami, was 34. In this story, as Hanami told it to Gene Kramer of The Associated Press, the ex-skipper recalls the 1943 incident and gives his views of Kennedy today.

By KOHEI HANAMI

TOKYO (AP)—It stuns me to think how close we came to destroying the new president of the United States, John F. Kennedy, one black night in the Pacific during World War II.

I can remember that night very clearly.

It was about 2 a.m. Aug. 1, 1943. My ship, the Amagiri, was returning from a supply mission to our troops in Kolobangara, in the Solomon Islands.

It was a starless night. Rain threatened and visibility was poor. I stood on the bridge, straining to see as we moved northward up Blackett Strait.

I had ordered battle alert, since we were under constant harassment by U.S. planes in the daytime and by night raiders and torpedo boats at night.

Suddenly we spotted an object churning up white waves about 1,000 meters to our starboard. I realized it was a torpedo boat and cried out, "Ten degrees turn, full speed ahead!"

Such "crash strategy" was supposed to be the best way to meet up a torpedo boat attack. Our destroyer moved heading toward the smaller boat at 30 knots.

We crashed right into it. I saw the enemy ship break in two with a tremendous roar. White gasoline flames shot out.

The torpedo boat disappeared in the dark. I knew that at least one half and probably both halves sank. The commander of that torpedo boat happened to be John F. Kennedy, but of course it was not until years later that I first heard his name.

I thought probably no one aboard the small boat survived. The thing for us was to get out of the enemy's theater of air superiority as quickly as we could. Although the collision smashed the Amagiri's bow, damaged its screw and caused some flooding, we were able to run for Rabaul at 24 knots.

The next year I was relieved of command in March because of illness.

After the war, I settled down on my family farm at Shiokawa. Lack of sleep from constant bombardment and overwork had been too much. I came down with tuberculosis and was an invalid for four years.

In 1952, still on the farm, I was flabbergasted to get a letter from Dr. Gunji Hosono, chairman of the Japan Institute of Foreign Affairs in Tokyo. It said that the torpedo boat smashed by the Amagiri had been skipped by Congressman Kennedy, then visiting Japan, and he wanted to meet me.

I was tremendously moved by Kennedy's friendliness to a former adversary. I could not reach Tokyo in time to meet him, but I wrote him a letter, congratulating him on his daring attack and miraculous survival and wishing him success in his campaign for senator. In his reply Kennedy agreed with my view that the United States and Japan should cooperate as friends.

After that I naturally followed Kennedy's successes with interest. My fortunes, too, improved. I became a good farmer. My wife and I have bought radio and television sets and a motor plow. We raise chickens and beef cattle—one cow at a time—with the help of hired hands.

Vivian Vance Exchanges Vows With Publisher

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Actress Vivian Vance, 48, and book publisher John Dodds, 41, who were married here Monday, planned to leave today for Hollywood.

Mrs. Dodds is known for her role as Ethel Mertz in the "I Love Lucy" TV series.

The Dodds met on a blind date in Santa Fe at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hooton in the summer of 1959. They were married in the Hooton home by Justice of the peace Tom Milne. Actor John Emory gave the bride away. Mr. and Mrs. Hooton acted as best man and matron of honor.

A Company Cat Is Returned To Main Gate Post

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Mister Tom, the company cat who caused a labor-management crisis when he was fired last week, is back on the job today — with a sand box.

Officials of Pacific Mercury Electronics Corp. had blamed Tom's dismissal on a lack of hygienic habits. They agreed to discuss the matter with employees when a union threatened to seek state intervention.

At a two-hour meeting Monday, Tom's housekeeping problems were ironed out. A carpenter's union official said he would provide a house and sandbox, and Tom went back to his post at the main gate.

the property involved and would at least save the present street for basic support for the resurfacing.

Councilman Jack Cunningham asked if this surface would hold. He explained property owners in the vicinity of Seventh and Broadway feared it would wash away under heavy rains in the area. Engineer Bob Cunningham explained the method to be used in resurfacing would assure the black top mat would be well sealed and would not be damaged by the water.

Councilman Raymond Roberts sought information as to why the area between Grand and Prospect was left out. He suggested it be included. Councilman Lewis then requested Roberts to contact those property owners with a petition for it to be included and he indicated he would follow it up.

The street program presented several weeks ago was under the 1,200 foot law where paving could be forced through. The program presented at the meeting Monday is strictly an area program and it is up to the property owners to remonstrate if they don't want it. It was also pointed out many of the property owners do desire to have the streets improved.

Two bids were received on the proposed purchase of a new fire pumper truck for the fire department. The American La France company bid was $25,438 delivered in Sedalia, with a 750 pump capacity and a 275 horsepower engine. The Mack company bid on a Mack truck C-85F pumper truck was $23,118.37 F.O.B. Sedalia. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee, the Fire and Water Committee, and the Fire Chief for further discussion and to go over some 30 odd pages of specifications.

The Council approved a $60 expenditure to send Chester Anderson to the University of Missouri fire school, Jan. 30-Feb. 3. Anderson has been a driver for the department for over ten years.

It was announced the Fire Department letter read at the Dec. 19 meeting, in which the firemen sought a substantial salary increase, is under advisement. Councilman E. B. Smith stated the Finance Committee at present did not have an answer to the request.

The Council approved a street light application for a light 300 feet west of Skyline Drive on Anderson Avenue in Southwest Village.

Bids on the water cooler for the police department had been checked, according to an announcement by Councilman Cunningham, and the bid of the Independent Plumbing Co. for $241 for the cooler and installation was approved.

The Council, on recommendation of Councilman Smith, voted an additional $900 to $1,000 to be allocated the Civil Defense.

Councilman Smith asked permission of the Council to place monies in surplus at the present time on time deposit in the banks so this money might draw some interest before it is actually needed. The request was approved.

A wholesale beer license for the Fechtel Beverage and Sales Inc., was approved by the Council.

The Council voted to destroy nine interest coupons of $10 each on the Public Sewer bonds, a total of $90.

Mayor Abe Silverman announced the Sedalia Centennial Committee had presented an additional $1,000 to be placed to the Youth Work fund. Councilman Smith requested to place this amount on interest bearing deposit. The total Centennial contributions, including those from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, now totals $15,186.30. The Council approved the request.

The Council approved a subcommittee to the Urban Renewal Committee. Members are Sam E. Boyle, Stanley H. Cloy, W. D. Hill, Mrs. D. F. Richardson and Lyman Parks. Mayor Silverman explained the committee was necessary to work with the original committee.

Mayor Silverman also stated on the original committee the membership includes Robert Fritz and not Mrs. Fritz, as previously reported.

Frederick H. Bennett, Civil Defense Director, was given the oath of office during the council meeting by Mayor Silverman. Bennett, although director of Civil Defense for more than a year, had not previously been given the oath.

The Council approved the semi-annual financial statement and approved an order for its publication in the Sedalia Democrat-Capital.

The monthly reports of City officials were approved as follows: Paul Alpert, city collector, $242,634.36; L. W. Dickman, building permits, $75.00 and electric.

Tree Care Is Subject For Club Speaker

Garden Club 3 met Friday at the home of Mrs. Gilbert V. Jones with Mrs. E. E. Brummet assisting. A dessert was served at 1 p.m.

Mrs. H. C. Sammons, club president, presided and distributed the year books.

Phillip Pfeiffer spoke on "What to Know About Trees." He brought out that prevention of disease was preferable to trying to cure it after it had attacked the tree. Infection which shows in a tree 10 or 15 years old may have had its beginning when the tree was young, Pfeiffer commented.

Other hints Pfeiffer gave included:

Wrap young trees with sisal paper to prevent the bark from sun burning.

Band trees about shoulder high with a tanglefoot which never hardens to prevent bugs from crawling up the trunk and laying their eggs.

Watch out for Dutch Elm disease if the bark is loose.

When feeding trees get the feed down into the ground by pouring it into holes made around the drip edge.

Water trees in dry winter weather as well as summer using a small stream for longer periods rather than a rapid stream for a short time.

In planting a tree, be sure to get the tap root and have loose dirt in the bottom of the hole. Do not plant overly deep.

Second Clinic Held Recently At Local School

The second immunization clinic was held recently at Washington School in the school auditorium with Dr. J. W. Maunders, the physician in charge of the clinic. He was assisted by one of his office nurses, Mrs. Catherine Luker and the school nurse, Mrs. J. R. Murrell. Assisting, also, were the following mothers, Mrs. James Dickman, Mrs. Loren Miller, Mrs. James Stevenson, Mrs. J. C. Frownfelter and Mrs. William O. Hiatt.

Temperatures were taken before any shots were given to a child. A total of 66 went through the clinic, 50 for diphtheria-tetanus shots, 42 for polio shots and 16 for smallpox vaccination.

The health chairman for Washington School is Mrs. Bob Mecum. The PTA at Washington School feels that if they kept one child from becoming a cripple or saved one life from one of the diseases, the clinic was worth while.

trical permits, $74.55; Mary English, library fines, $127.00; Luther Wright, street cut permits, $178.50, and plumbers permits, $152.50; Charles Simon, weighmaster, $134.75; Ray Anderson, airport revenue, $8.78; Ralph Hamlin, Chief of Police, police fines, $2,521.00; Ralph Carroll, license inspector, $4.00. Total collections $245,910.44.

Department bills approved for payment were: Sewer and Sanitation, $1,176.63; Street and Alleys, $815.68; Police Dept. $63.10; Parking, $23.20; Civil Defense, $61.63; Public Buildings and Grounds, $427.78; Airport, $50.14; General and Administrative, $1,091.89; Fire and Water, $239.13. # Eisenhower Budget Starts Guessing Game For Nation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The budget that President Eisenhower submitted to Congress Monday opens up a guessing game rather than setting a final guide for taxpayers and business.

The guesses are implied in both the spending and income sides of the ledger.

In spending there's always the question of what Congress will finally do with any presidential budget. Added this time is the uncertainty of the task force reports to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

If all their suggestions were adopted spending would rise well above the $80.9 billion the outgoing President calls necessary, and which itself is 2 billion more than in the current fiscal year.

In receipts, his estimate of $82.3 billion will be obtained only if the current business slide is reversed so that tax collections will swell, and only if Congress votes higher gas taxes and increased postal rates.

So the budget leaves business and the taxpayer about where they were — that is, guessing how much the Kennedy administration will want to spend, how much Congress will approve, and how far the business slackness is likely to go and when a recovery can be expected.

The taxpayer, and that includes both individuals and business, is concerned in what happens to the budget because ultimately the bills have to be met. And if the Treasury doesn't achieve the $1.5-billion surplus that President Eisenhower hopes for, but runs up a deficit instead, both individuals and business could be under revived inflationary pressures.

Business is further concerned because just how much the government spends and for what it puts out its money vitally affects many companies and whole industries. Eventually this widens out to take in most of the economy.

Studying the proposed budget, business notes that only two items call for less spending in fiscal 1962 than in the current fiscal year. These are interest on the public debt, down because interest rates are down, not because of any drop in the total debt; and for commerce, housing and space technology.

Everything else is up. Defense spending is up $1.5 billion, but this was expected. So was the increase in outlay for veterans services and benefits. President Eisenhower wants more for foreign aid than Congress voted for this fiscal year.

Purely civilian projects that are asking more money for the next fiscal year are labor and welfare, agriculture and agricultural resources, natural resources, and general government costs.

Some projects don't come under the regular budget at all. These are the sums collected and spent for such endeavors as Social Security, jobless payments and superhighways.

Adding these, the total cash to be spent in fiscal 1962 becomes $101.8 billion, or $3.9 billion more than this year. And the total money expected to be collected from the public becomes $193.1 billion, or $4.1 billion more than this year.

These are figures that business studies, since they furnish a better idea of how much government will withdraw from the public's pockets and just how much could be available sooner or later to business either in government orders, or in cash in the pockets of those who get salaries, or payment from the government.

Hairdresser Says Jack Won by Hair

LONDON (AP)—John F. Kennedy beat Richard M. Nixon by a head—his head of uniquely styled hair.

That's the opinion of William Troyack, master of the London branch of the Incorporated Guild of Hairdressers, Wigmakers and Perfumers.

"Mr. Kennedy has a special way of having his hair cut," said Troyack in an interview today, "and I'm convinced that accounted for the difference in votes that put him in the White House."

Master barber Troyack has a theory that hair styling is vital to all politicians.

"A politician seeking to make a name for himself should create a characteristic hair style and stick to it for the rest of his life," he explained.

"It becomes his trade mark. People remember him by it. He lends himself to the art of the political cartoonist. Dig back through British history and you'll see what I mean."

He clipped off the names of Lloyd George, Disraeli, Charles Parnell and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

"Disraeli wore ringlets," said Troyack.

"Lloyd George had barbed locks. Mr. Macmillan waves his hair and there are peaks at the sides."

"Parnell had a full and fatherly head of hair which he wore to match his beard."

Troyack shook his head and sighed.

"Why are present day politicians so unadventurous about their hair?"

Reminded that Sir Winston Churchill has done very well politically without a characteristic hair style, the barber replied: "Sir Winston unfortunately has very little hair with which to work."

Students Rank High On National Test

Miss Cora Meek, principal of the Sweet Springs R-7 High School, recently received results on the Ohio Psychological test given the Senior Class.

These seniors are eligible for the University of Missouri Curator Scholarship awards to be used in the furthering of their education. These scholarships apply only to colleges and universities supported by the state.

As a class, the Sweet Springs Seniors ranked in the 56 percentile, putting them above the national average.

New Musical Offers Fans Little Cheer

By WILLIAM GLOVER

Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP)—"The Conquering Hero" gives Broadway nothing to cheer about.

Starring television's Tom Poston, the musical unveiled in a raucous blast of color and sound Monday night at the ANTA Theater.

Based on "Hail, the Conquering Hero," a notable Preston Sturges movie satire some years back, the stage production falters, stumbles and echoes hollowly with a sort of frantic desperation.

On route to the White Way the show was beset with an abnormal aches. Shifts were made in director and choreographer—and those vital tasks are attributed to no individual on the final program.

The book, written by Larry Gelbart, awkwardly tries to combine fantasy, burlesque and trenchant commentary in a yarn that relates how a would-be Marine (discharged from service because of hayfever) reluctantly gets entrapped in a triumphant homecoming.

Poston goes about his task with a kind of uneasy determination, and the rest of the cast moves with similar unsureness. Lionel Stander of the gravel voice is a top sergeant, and two pretty girls, Kay Brown and Jane Mason, try hard as romantic enticements.

The score by Moose Charlap is more emphatic than melodic, and the Norman Gimbel lyrics rhyme, most of the time. The dancing phase of "The Conquering Hero" is unexceptional, save for a dream segment in which a battle on Guadalcanal is developed with tasteless vulgarity.

The settings, by Jean Rosenthal and William Pitkin, like the costumes by Patton Campbell, are unexceptional but serviceable.

The topsy-turvy charade is produced by Robert Whitehead and Roger L. Stevens. They admit their responsibility in a small line at the bottom of the program.

Kola Club Meets With Mrs. Walter Klein

The Kola Club held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Klein with eight members and two visitors present. Visitors were Mrs. Kenneth Schröder and Mrs. M. Brewner.

The meeting was opened by the vice president. The devotional was given by Mrs. Lowell Trether.

Mrs. Hienz Michalkowsky read the commandments on house-keeping. Mrs. Leonard Siegel gave the lesson "A Review on Salads."

Each member brought the hostess a small gift. A valentine exchange will be held at the next meeting. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Thompson in the afternoon.

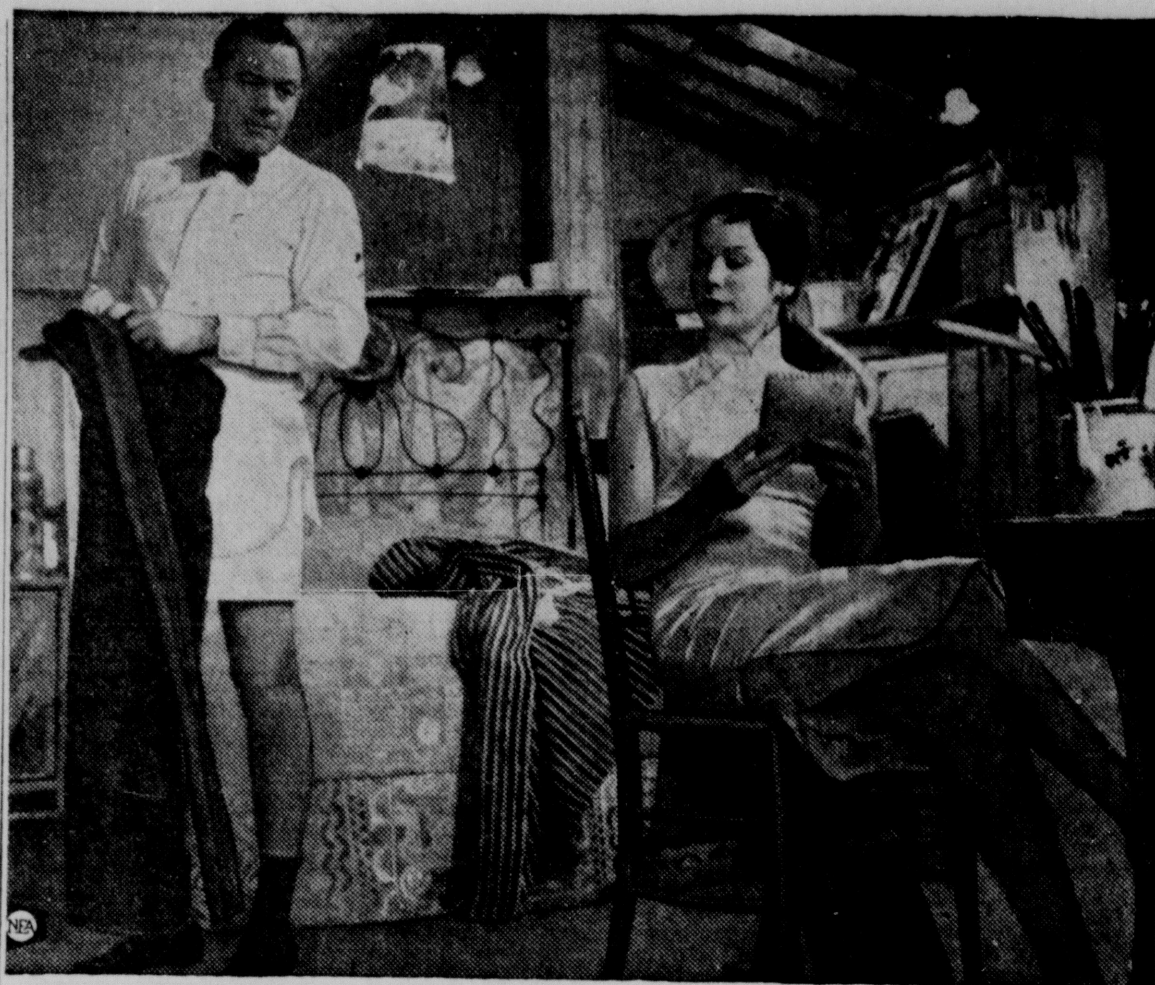

Thursday Extension Holds Regular Meet

The Thursday Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Wasson Thursday. There were 13 members, five children and one guest, Mrs. George Harrison, present.

The group chose Home Safety for the Health program and of the extra activities offered the most interest was shown in tour of homes in Pettis County and in the tailoring class.

The next meeting will be Feb. 9 at the home of Mrs. Luther Wiley. The program will be the food lesson to be given by Mrs. Guy Makin and Mrs. D. I. Sevier.

LONDON — (NEA) — "What has London got that Hollywood hasn't?" Gregory Peck spread his big hands expressively.

"Everything," he said. Peck was at Shepperton studios near London where he was completing the $5 million "Guns of Navarone." This is the fifth film he has made in Britain in recent years; he hopes to make many more here.

"London is a world capital. Hollywood is only a provincial town," the actor who was born in La Jolla, Calif., explained.

"I like the people here, I like the life — it's cosmopolitan." Talk to any of the so-called "runaway" film stars in Britain and they will tell you the same things:

Hollywood is a hick town. It has no real culture of its own. It is full of phonies. Its climate is as stifling as a Turkish bath.

The stars, it seems, are in full-fledged revolt against the witch goddess that gave them fame. They have suddenly become terribly world-minded; they are trying hard to break out of their insular cocoon.

Stars like Elizabeth Taylor, Cary Grant, Suzy Parker and Gary Cooper flock to London despite vile climate, primitive plumbing and bad food. Why?

Suzy Parker pals around with Princess Margaret and Tony Armstrong-Jones. "They treat me like a 17-year-old deb," says Suzy, who is 27.

Bing Crosby buys suits here from a tailor in Mayfair. Gregory Peck and his wife haunt the art galleries and antique dealers' shops. Judy Garland, who has quit Hollywood for good, enters her two children in London schools. Liz Taylor shops for Siamese cats.

But if London is Hollywood's new spiritual home, Switzerland is the permanent residence for an increasing number of runaway stars. A movie colony has sprung up there with Bill Holden, Yul Brynner, Stewart Granger, Deborah Kerr, Audrey Hepburn, Richard Burton and Noel Coward.

Have they gone to ski? No. Switzerland is chosen because it is two hours from London where many runaways now make films and because it is income tax free.

William Holden, in particular, has been singled out for criticism for taking up residence in income tax-free Switzerland. Holden pleads business interests in Hong Kong, Tokyo and Kenya as the reasons for spending so little time in the U. S.

Are the stars' demands for more real money unreasonable? For example, is any star worth $1 million as Liz Taylor will be getting for seven months' work in "Cleopatra?"

"Elizabeth Taylor is worth every penny of it," says the director of "Cleopatra," Rouben Mamoulian. "She is the only living actress who can play this role in my opinion."

If the stars are happy with Europe, it would seem that film makers here are even happier with them. Generally, American stars here are model employees from the studio's viewpoint. They turn up at 7:30 a.m., work straight through with few breaks.

"What do I do in England?" Gregory Peck asks rhetorically. "Race horses are my passion, a passion shared by the British."

"Also, my wife and I go to concerts and the theater here; we have picked up quite a few good antiques."

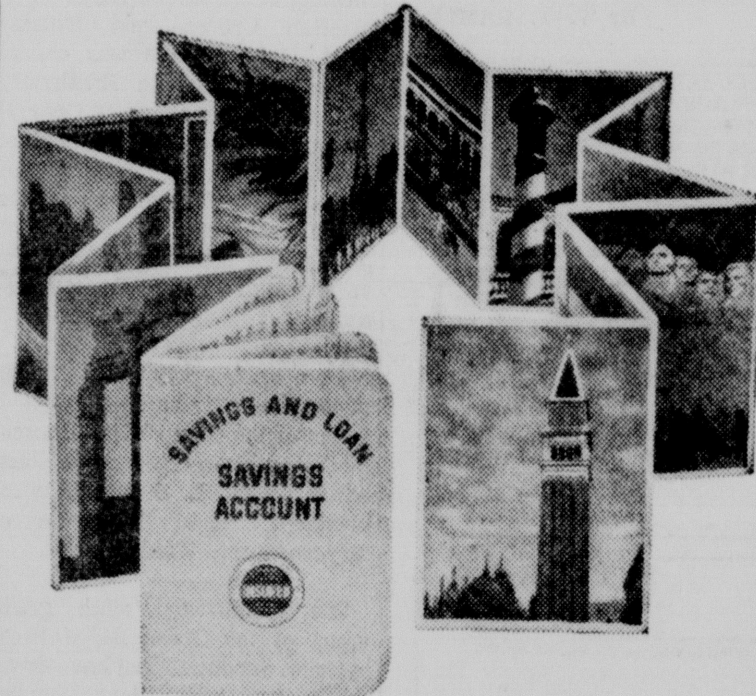

"I wish that all films could be made in London."
